ABOUT THE PESTICIDE SPRAYING

- Millions of Bay Area residents are slated to be sprayed REPEATEDLY with untested pesticides for the Light Brown Apple Moth.
- Spraying to begin on August 17, 2008 and will continue 9 months per year, for up to 10 years.
- Santa Cruz and Monterey counties were aerielly sprayed in the Fall of 2007 with pesticides. There were 643 reports of illness following the spray.
- No crop damage from the moth has been reported to date.
- We must call on our Governor and the USDA to protect our health and environment, to stop the use of toxic pesticides in our neighborhoods and to seek safe alternatives.

Proceeds to benefit outreach efforts of Stop the Spray Marin, a project of Search for the Cause. With your support we can make our communities safe and healthy places.
